

All the Design Events Happening this October

Between High Point, Field + Supply, Dutch Design Week, and TEFAF, this month is shaping up to be a busy one for the design set

Fall foliage aside, there are plenty of reasons to travel this October as design weeks, festivals, and fairs pop up near and far. In particular, New York City will host a wealth of architecture-focused events all month long, Mexico City will celebrate its status as 2018 World Design Capital, and, of course, the trade will flock to North Carolina mid-month for the biannual High Point market. Here are the events that should be on your radar this month.

WestEdge Design Fair

When: October 18–21 Where: Santa Monica, California Website:

This Los Angeles-based fair brings together local and international contemporary designers, many of whom are new to the West Coast, for an exciting mix of panels, talks, and events. Not to miss is the Women's Work exhibition, which celebrates female designers who are moving the needle forward, including Egg Collective, Debra Folz, Kelly Lamb, Gulla Jónsdóttir, and Brenda Houston, and others.
